The sixth annual National Capital Service of Thanksgiving -- sponsored by the Council of Churches National Capital Area and Church World Service, National Council of Churches -- will be held at the Washington Cathedral on Sunday afternoon, November 22, from four to five o'clock.

Canon Bryan Green, Birmingham, England, one of the world's noted preachers, will be the principal speaker.

This service will launch the nation-wide Thanksgiving Week emphasis on the "Share Our Surplus" program of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox Churches in America, through which many millions in need overseas are aided from our national commodity abundance.

We would like to extend a cordial invitation to you to attend this Service of Thanksgiving. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower also have been invited to worship with us in gratitude to God.

Sincerely yours,

Clarence T. Nelson

Dear Mr. Nutter:

I have your letter of 20 April and want you to know that I greatly appreciate your kind comments about the talk that I made at the Edison Electric Institute Convention.

It was most thoughtful of you to write me.

With kindest regards.

Sincerely,

SIGNED

Dear Mr. Dulles:

Your speech of April 8 is the kind of thing that has badly needed saying the last few years. While one might be inclined to quarrel with some figures, this becomes relatively unimportant because of the perspective you give to the Soviet threat. At the risk of seeming presumptuous, I want to offer my congratulations for a fine job.

Respectfully yours,

Warren Nutter
